Characteristics of the Insured Unemployed August 2006

In August 2006, approximately 38 percent of Rhode Island's unemployed workers were eligible to collect Unemployment Insurance benefits. Numbering 12,313 people, these "insured unemployed" accounted for 2.2 percent of the state's total employed (unadjusted). Nearly 21 percent (2,526) of the Ocean State's insured unemployed faced long-term unemployment, defined as collecting unemployment benefits for more than fourteen weeks.

Twenty-seven percent (3,327) of the people receiving Unemployment Insurance benefits were between the ages of 45 and 54, while an additional 27 percent (3,270) were 35 to 44 years old. Concentrations of long-term unemployment were highest among workers over 60 years of age, due in part to the difficulties workers face in finding new jobs as they grow older. For example, almost 26 percent of all insured unemployed workers 60 years and older had been collecting benefits for at least fourteen weeks, whereas 19 percent of those under 22 years of age and 20 percent of 22 to 24 year olds were considered long-term unemployed.

In August, approximately 43 percent (5,336) of those collecting Unemployment Insurance benefits had just a high school diploma. An additional 1,713 people (13.9%) had less than a high school diploma, while 17.9 percent (2,202) of the insured unemployed had at least a bachelor's degree. Roughly 25 percent of insured unemployed workers with less than a high school diploma had been collecting benefits for a minimum of fourteen weeks, while 20 percent of those with at least a Bachelor's degree were also considered long-term unemployed.

On an industry basis, 16 percent (1,912) of the state's insured unemployed workers came from the Manufacturing sector. There were also 1,640 individuals with an attachment to the Accommodations and Food Services sector, accounting for 13.3 percent of all insured unemployed workers. An additional 11 percent (1,296) of those collecting Unemployment Insurance benefits in August had worked in the Health Care & Social Assistance sector. Large numbers of insured unemployed were also reported in Transportation & Warehousing (1,161), Retail Trade (1,081) and Administrative & Waste Services (852).

Those previously employed in Office & Administrative occupations accounted for 14.3 percent (1,762) of the state's insured unemployed. A large number of workers previously employed in Transportation & Material Moving (1,502), Production (1,480) and Food Preparation & Serving Related (1,324) occupations also collected Unemployment Insurance benefits in August. Numerous occupational groups reported concentrations of long-term unemployment above the state average, including Legal (38.8%), Business & Financial Operations (33.9%), Sales & Related (29.4%) and Installation, Maintenance & Repair (28.5%).
